

Bryson a car for which he had to wait 5 weeks for delivery. In making the purchase, a $25 cas was ready. Upon reaching the Hyde Park Chevrolet Dealer, he was informed Negroes who are unsuspecting and tical control over the all-Negro Release 2001/08/28 : CIA-RDP65B00383R000200040119-7 Approved For Release 2001/08/28 : CIA-RDP65B00383R000200040119-7 M. GATON COOK DAVID RHODES (Continued on Page 29)

REPORT CONFIRMED

Ghanian Troops Were In Cuba

The New Crusader in an article published in an Oct. 1962 issue, of this newspaper were the subjects of a recent attack in the Ghanaian parliament in Accra. Published exclusively in THE New Crusader, the article reported the presence of Ghanian troops as part of an international brigade assembled by Fidel Castro for the defense of the Caribbean country. The report has since been confirmed by Washington officials and some leading journalistic observers in Cuba. But speaking in the National Assembly on Dec. 14, Ghana's Defense Minister Kofi Baako, denied that Ghana had sent soldiers to Cuba. He charged that the story was the fabrication of Ghanian exiles and that it amounted to "treasonable crime against the state." "The motive behind the story is to let it appear that the Government of Ghana has taken sides in the recent Cuban-American disputes and also to cause disaffection during the primary elections." (Continued on Page 2)

SICK CHILD NEGLECTED: DIES AT COOK COUNTY HOSPITAL

BY WALTER JONES
The tragic death last Friday of little one-year-old Felicia Jackson while in her mother's arms waiting for medical attention at Cook County Hospital is representative of the administration's total disregard for some persons who come there for help.

Though pledged to help the sick and save lives to the best of their ability, those on duty chose to ignore the code of the world's noblest profession, thus resulting in the death.

With apologetic tones, hospital officials called the death most regrettable, but hastened to excuse their responsibility by saying that it was "probably unavoidable."

Felicia had been brought to the hospital by her mother, Mrs. Virginia Jackson, 20, of 4053 South Michigan Ave., approximately 3 hours before the death occurred.

According to hospital officials, the baby was registered in the clinic within 20 minutes. Records

MUHAMMAD SPEAKS
PAGE . . . 5

(Continued on Page 2)

Cong. Dawson Not The Cause Of Holman, Skyles Brawl At City Hall

According to startled spectators who witnessed the brawl that occurred Monday morning between Ald. Claude Holman (4th) and former state representative Charles M. Skyles in a city hall corridor, the name of Cong. Dawson was at no time mentioned.

The two popular southside politicians were said to have been arguing over some gossip emanating from a 43rd street beauty parlor, when Ald. Holman pointed his finger in Skyles' face, tapping him on the nose.

The six-foot athletically-built former legislator became incensed.

He grabbed the slightly built alderman, shoved and pinned him to the wall. Skyles was about to send a right to the jaw of the 4th ward boss, who at that instance began yelling for the police.

Luckily for both solons, the ever dignified Kenneth Campbell, the 20th ward alderman and committeeman, rushed to the scene and separated the two men, shaming them for their unprecedented conduct.

It is rumored that Holman and Skyles have been cool toward each other ever since Skyles openly declared his allegiance to Cong. Wm. L. Dawson at a mass meeting at the 2nd Ward Democratic Headquarters during the primary elections in 1962.

The long-time Democratic leader and representative also surprised the rank and files last Friday night at a 2nd ward rally when he made public his intentions to give up his residence at 4714 Champlain ave. and move into Lake Meadows, thus becoming a full fledged member of the congressman's powerful ward organization.

MOBILE.

"For the first time in our history the United States has deliberately set out to destroy the liberty and independence of another people!" said the Indianapolis Star in a first-page editorial, headed "America's Day of Infamy," on January 1.

"By our outright support of the savage colonial policy of the United Nations in Katanga, the American government has made itself a party to one of the most vicious attacks on a free people since the Soviet Union smashed the victorious revolt of the people in Hungary," it continued. "Without United States support and direction, this brutal destruction of the rights of the people of Katanga could never have occurred. Succumbing to the pressures of the so-called 'neutralist' states in the U. N., and to the Soviet-dominated Secretary General U Thant, our government has turned its back upon its own historic principles."

"According to official reasoning, the central Congo government in Leopoldville may not be able to last unless it gets hold of the income from Katanga's copper resources, though why Leopoldville's financial distress is the fault of Katanga is more than a little hard to fathom," comments the Wall Street Journal on January 3. "...It is an ugly spectacle for the U. S. to be support-Elizabethville, since the whole plot was based on hijackery anyhow. Katanga has money. The highlanders of a so-called Central Congolese government wanted Katanga's loot. So the hired gunmen obviously knocked off Moise Tshombe's bank."

Sick Child Dies In County Hospital

(Continued from Page 1)
show that Felicia's temperature was taken a few minutes later. It was 101, which, according to Dr. George Blaha, medical director of the hospital, is not alarming in an infant.

The tiring wait exhausted and annoyed the young mother who was becoming understandably more anxious about her daughter's condition. After about three hours she became even more alarmed as Felicia became even more restless and began to move fitfully in her arms. This alarm turned to near panic as the small bundle began gasping, and then finally stopped breathing.

Tears streamed from Mrs. Jackson's eyes as the full realization of what had happened grasped her. Now, helpless, pathetic, the suddenly old Mrs. Jackson, with quizzical, hurs, unseeing eyes, sought the answer to a question, "Why?"

Meanwhile Mr. Adamowski should assume it to be his moral obligation to offer some digestible explanation of these expenditures.

A Chicagoan will have reason to be proud of his city's transit system after an ordeal connected with the use of bus service in Gary, Indiana.

How a civilized community could continue to tolerate such atrocious mismanagement of a utility eludes comprehension.

Gary bus fares are probably the highest in the country for the kind of service the public receives for them.

An investigation by the Indiana Public Service Commission would be fully justified.

The bus company has been awarded a number of fare increases in the last several years. For these boosts, it has agreed to render services of a specific scope and frequency. Whether there is undeviating observance of this commitment is one of the

Why should her daughter die in a hospital without any medical attention? Where else would a mother take her sick child?

Hospital authorities attributed the death to pneumonia, but "expressed disappointment" that the distraught young mother would not permit an autopsy.

What makes the United States a great country? "Its government?" this column queried dutifully.

and something less than a total menace." Well, that's one man's opinion, anyway.

Ghanian Troops In Cuba

(Continued from Page 1)
tion amongst our people," Baako said.

He stated further that "Dr. K. A. Busia and the other self-exiled Ghanians in Lome, who after writing the article sent it through to one Akowua, secretary of a reactionary so-called students association in Chicago for publication in the New Crusader."

Mr. Baako said that after the publication of the article and denials by Ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey notwithstanding, Kwaw Richardson and others now "self-exiled" in Lome made it their duty to circulate copies of the story.

"Dr. Busia himself recently appeared before the American Senate at his own request to discuss this article and other anti-Ghana matters with them," Baako said. "It is obvious that Dr. Busia, Gbedemah and their self-exiled friends in Lome manufactured this article about Ghana, hoping that through that they might get financial and other support for their nefarious anti-African activities."

The Ghanians in Cuba are not,

In fact, members of the Ghanian army. They are, however, Communist-oriented "volunteers," who were brought to Cuba from Ghana. It is remembered that the Chinese "volunteers" who stormed into Korea in 1950 were also disclaimed by their Red Chinese government.

The New Crusader had learned and reported that the Ghanian troops in Cuba were "tall Negroes" and that they were kept in marshalling areas near Cienfuegos and Mariel. About 1,500 were in the first contingent to be received by Castro.

This newspaper had learned that the Ghanian soldiers were absorbed into the international brigade of Communists numbering about 30,000. They were trained by Russian officers, it was reported.

The Communist war build-up called for the use of many non-white troops.

A force of Red Chinese soldiers were stationed on the Isle of Pines at the time of the publication of The New Crusader article.

Algerians had also started to arrive at the time.